The rolling hills of Sumter National Forest near Chester are home to nine miles of easy-to-moderate loops known collectively as Woods Ferry Horse Trail. The trails run over a primarily red clay terrain that provides a wonderful change in scenery from the area’s typical pine trails. Interconnecting loops allow for rides of varying lengths. This area has a hardwood canopy of poplars, maples and sweet gums. Look for deer, turkeys, redtail hawks, quail, blue heron and even the rare osprey. Bald eagles can be seen along the Broad River corridor.
